Many Connections, Including The Hospital, Made—High And Public Schools To Be Connected By End Of Year First Step Towards Installing System Taken Eight Years Ago—Mayor Tooley Says That Council Feels Satisfied That Contractors Made Good Job Of Work—Engineer Haddin Left For Calgary On Tuesday—Test Proves New Well Satisfactory.

John Haddin, of Haddin & Miles, consulting engineer during the installation of Grande Prairie's first unit of a water and sewer system, left on Tuesday for Calgary, following completion of the work.

Several connections have been made, including the hospital, and other places are being hooked up. The disposal plant was tested the end of last week and was set in operation on Monday morning.

On the same day the Mayor and councillors, accompanied by Mr. Haddin and his assistant, J. S. Donaldson, inspected the plant, which is the latest type, an English system.

Teepee Crk Legion Smoker Proves Very Enjoyable Affair

Smoker Held On Ranch Of Ed Grant—Singing, Songs, Interests, Short Speeches And Stories—Ed Grant Master Of Ceremonies—Well Received By Captain G. Blake, President Of Teepee Creek Branch.

Those who attended the smoker given by the Teepee Creek Branch of the Canadian Legion on Monday night in a large building on Ed Grant's ranch spent a most enjoyable few hours. A fine arrangement, served in snappy style and with military precision, added to the success of the evening.

Grande Prairie and Sexsmith were represented. Ed Carney, president of the Sexsmith branch of the Legion, was master of ceremonies and he lost no time in calling upon Captain G. Blake, president of the Teepee Creek branch, who in a few appropriate remarks welcomed the visitors.

Singing interspersed the various short speeches and stories. As a starter to the program the chairman called upon Pat Healey for a recitation, which Pat did in a most pleasing manner.

At the end of the selection Pat took a humorous dig at the Soldier Settlement Board. Joe Patters of Grande Prairie, who served with the Belgian army during the Great War, made a most interesting speech told of his experience in meeting Canadian troops for the first time. He said that the sight of these troops was so wonderful that he was absolutely dumbfounded.

Charlie Turner, president of the Grande Prairie branch of the Legion, was introduced as coming from the metropolis of the North. He said he was pleased that Comrade Carney had made that remark. Turner then told of some very humorous incidents that happened overseas when he was in the trenches, struggling with the French language and getting all tangled up in the process.

Jack McKenzie of Teepee Creek, zone representative, made a most humorous speech that happened at the convention at Lethbridge, taking a rise out of Comrade Carney, who also was at the convention. Rapid-fire repartee between the two brought roars of laughter from the comrades. Jack then sang a song.

C. C. Fleming, past president of the Grande Prairie branch, made a speech for a speech said that he had prepared one but had given it to Mr. Sissons to deliver. He said that everyone else, Mr. Fleming said that he was glad to be present and enjoy the evening.

J. H. Sissons, who was next introduced, observed that he was afraid he could not deliver the toast. He said that he was not a good speaker, but he was glad to be present, adding that nothing compares with the spirit of a Legion smoker. The only way he could explain this spirit was that such occasions bring back the spirit of comradeship which existed during the Great War.

Comrade Ed Grant, who is longer on doing things than in making speeches, hoped everyone had a good time and that they would all come back again. W. Smith of Sexsmith sang a song popular overseas during the war. Ike Adams of Sexsmith said that he was glad to be present. As he was not a returned man, he considered the invitation a compliment. A good story rounded out his remarks.

J. B. Yule of The Northern Tribune responded to the toast "The Press." There have been larger crowds at Legion smokers than at any time more enjoyable than the smoker of the Teepee Creek branch.

Just before the visitors left for their various homes a vote of thanks was moved by Comrade Patters to the Grande Prairie branch for making possible such enjoyable hours.

Grande Prairie Young Men Injured When Car Goes Over Embankment At Peace River

Neil Dalgleish, son of Alex Dalgleish of Grande Prairie, was injured when his car skidded on ice and went over the embankment at the approach to the high level bridge on his way to the town of Peace River on Friday night last.

Neil had for his travelling companion Gerald Clarke, son of Ernie Clarke, formerly of Grande Prairie, Gerald escaped injury.

Neil was taken to the Peace River Hospital, where he was found with injuries were not serious. It was expected that he will be able to leave the hospital this week.

known as the Simplex Aeration System.

Later in the day the new well was visited. The 6½-inch test indicated approximately 20 gallons per minute. With the other wells the water supply would seem to be ample for some time to come.

It is hoped by the end of the year many other connections will be made, including the public and high schools, and the new landing, which is being fitted out in the basement of the Town Hall.

The first step towards installing the water and sewer system was taken some eight years ago, when the town was surveyed by Haddin & Miles. Owing to the extreme business depression which followed, the project was dropped. It was revived about a year ago.

Discussion completion of the work with the Tribune reporter, Mayor Tooley said: "Myself and council naturally have a feeling of satisfaction on the completion of the first unit. In our opinion the contractors did the job well."

The unit is so constructed as to permit of future extensions without disturbing the present system. Mr. Haddin stated to The Tribune reporter just before he boarded the train that he will visit Grande Prairie in the spring and look over the system.

Lively Discussions At C.C.F. Meeting Held At Wembley

WEMBLEY, Nov. 23.—A C.C.F. meeting was held in the dining room of the Wembley Hotel Tuesday, December 22. Attendance was small but the discussion was keen.

It was suggested that on account of uncertain conditions in the relations meetings be suspended for the winter and that questions of general public interest be discussed. The motion was carried.

It was unanimously voted, however, to have at least one more meeting and the secretary was asked to arrange for making a motion in Grande Prairie in two weeks' time, viz., Tuesday, December 6, at 8 p.m. A committee was elected to arrange for a debate on that date, to which all interested would be welcome.

The relative value to the people of Alberta of the Dominion Debt Act as compared with that of provincial debt acts was discussed last Tuesday.

Mr. Allen held strongly to the view that the Dominion Debt Adjustment Act could make a final settlement of debt and that the debtor would carry out the terms he automatically was thrown to the mercy of his creditors.

Mr. Dawson held that it continued to pay interest on the debt, making payment actually impossible without starvation of the debtor, even if the Dominion decisions were being set aside.

Mr. Elliott held that the provincial act, with its power of suspending all action for debt, was the cause of many times more settlements being made by the Dominion Act. Mr. Elliott was all for an early clearing up of the debt situation to eliminate present stagnation and open way for future progress. Mr. Roper, editor of the "People's Weekly," Edmonton, in a recent editorial had suggested a debt board in every district, which had been severely criticized by Mr. Allen as being impractical.

Other members of the meeting, the matter of "secession" of the western provinces from the rest of Canada came in for discussion, but time restrictions prevented this most interesting discussion necessary.

Other members joined the C.C.F. before leaving the hospitable roof of Mr. Purves' hotel.

RALPH CARRELL SAYS FIVE DOLLARS IS SORE TOUCH FOR CROSSING RIVER ON SCOW

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carrell of Beaver Lodge spent a short time at Grande Prairie on Friday on their way home by car from Yakima, Washington. The trip out was made to visit Mr. Carrell's mother, who was seriously ill.

Their daughter, Gwendolyn, who accompanied her parents out, stayed at Yakima to train for a nurse in the St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Asked by The Tribune reporter how they found the roads, Mr. Carrell replied that the highways were very good except between Fernie and Macleod, where they ran into a snow storm.

They crossed by ferry at the Big Smoky, but had to take the scow at Smith, for which five dollars was the toll. That was rather a sore touch," remarked Ralph.

Mrs. Carrell, son, who is on the way to the west, having lived for several years at Beaver Lodge.

Jim McFarlane of Cutbank Lake, who arrived here last evening, was a passenger on Friday's train, en route home from Edmonton, where he had been to the market of cattle.

Seen at the Grande Prairie station by The Tribune reporter, Mr. McFarlane said that he struck a fair market. His steers and heifers averaged from 16 to 18 cents and calves 4 cents. Cows, he stated, were a bit dreggy and only brought from 2½ to 3 cents.

"I did as well as I expected," observed Mr. McFarlane, who added that there were 76 carloads from the Peace River on the stock train—35 from south of the river and 21 from the north.

Hogs brought $8.50 at Grande Prairie on the last shipment.

The propeller and wings were damaged, but the fuselage was not scratched. Even the windows were not broken.

Arrangements are being made to ship the plane to Edmonton for repairs.

There were no passengers and the pilot was not injured.

Pilot Dame left on Thursday on the Tri-motor for Edmonton.

In conversation with The Tribune reporter at the Grande Prairie station Sanderson stated that he made the trip to Prince George down the Monkman Pass Highway.

The trip was a most interesting one, he said, and he was glad to see the spirit that is pushing through the Monkman Pass Highway.

On being congratulated by a friend who said he was glad to see him alive, "Rudy" replied that he was rather glad himself.

"Join Us Or Join Your Ancestors" Says Technocrat

By C. J. (Wilkie) Clow (M. A. L., Technocracy, Inc.)

It is observable that the swift growth of the last few years has led people to the realization of the fact that in the very near future—possibly within the next 30 years—man will be faced with the alternative of adopting a scientific control of our lives, or being exterminated.

The writer was in attendance at a mass meeting held in the Empire Theatre, where the speaker, Mr. Lawrence, left no stone unturned in his attack on the "Technocrat," who listened, paying rapt attention, for over two and one-half hours.

He pointed out the "rottenness" of the present Price System and explained Technocracy's plan for scientific control of our lives, every man, woman and child on this continent—regardless of age, race, color or creed—could be provided with a high standard of living—only a Technocrat system of control can make possible.

Through the fictitious aspects of the Price System operation, we see that our people—while viewing a potential abundance—all about them, made possible by scientific methods of production—are still forced to submit to a program of scarcity which spells poverty with all its concomitants—malnutrition, disease, inadequate clothing, housing and social services, which in turn breed crime, kidnapping, murder, suicide, etc.

We see those who would uphold the Price System—obviously inherently evil thing though it is—bravely showing a willingness to even promulgate a lie to only by so doing they may retain control—remain in the saddle, where they can maneuver and profit and indulge their lust for power and fancied self-interest.

And so, looking about and viewing the sorry mess in which we find ourselves, we wonder if control were turned over to the inmates of our insane asylums if THEY could possibly do a better job of it. We wonder if we are not being deceived and lulled into not expecting anything better constructive from THEM!

However, there is one—and only one—common-sense solution, and that is Technocracy—only Technocracy can save the masses of the people on this North American Continent from becoming cognizant of the truth, and the masses of the people on this North American Continent are becoming cognizant of the truth.

KEEN INTEREST TAKEN IN MONKMAN PASS HIGHWAY SAYS SASKATCHEWAN MAN

A. E. Campbell of Marenco, Sask., is visiting his old friend George Anderson of Flying Shot, who hails from the same territory.

This is Mr. Campbell's first visit to the Peace River and to The Tribune reporter he stated that, as far as he could see, the country was very attractive and he liked it.

Mr. Campbell further said that in Saskatchewan a great deal of interest is being taken in the Monkman Pass Highway, which contained all the information I sought.

A special number, which contained all the information I sought, was addressed to Mr. Campbell said: "Do you know, that issue was read by my neighbors for miles around. We of the Marenco district admire the spirit that is pushing through the Monkman Pass Highway."

Mr. Campbell will remain here about ten days.

History Repeats Itself On The Monkman Pass Route

By James H. Cameron

History has repeated itself this year on the route of the Monkman Pass Highway in the vicinity of the north fork of the McGregor, or "Bad River," also known as James Creek, which joins the Herrick or north fork of the McGregor.

On the journey I had the most thrilling experiences of my life. I was chased by an angry black mother bear on the Fontanka River and looking back over shooting the rapids in McGregor Canyon aboard a flimsy raft, I feel I am very lucky to be alive now.

Then there was the experience of being lost in miles and miles of clothes-tearing forest, for skin-tearing—devil's club (a thorny bush).

Recently I was greatly interested in the "Search for the Western Sea," a detailed account of Alexander MacKenzie's and Simon Fraser's experiences in a region the Peace River's Outlet will traverse. Burpee

MacKenzie and his men met two Sikani Indians on the upper reaches of the Parsnip. They told him that a long portage led to the Peace River, and that they had obtained ironwork from another tribe which inhabited the banks of this river and an ad-

Town Fathers Deal With Many Matters At Regular Meeting Monday Night

Fire Chief Chester Miller Reports To Council On Brigade—E. N. Beestlestone Hired To Look After Risk And Disposal Plant—Constable Harper's Suggestion To Change Location Of Cars To Centre Of Main Thoroughfare Accepted—Mayor Objected To Herald's Report Of Special Meeting Of Council, Contending That It Was Unfair.

Much business was considered and transacted at the regular meeting of the town fathers held on Monday night.

All members were present with the exception of Councillor Russell Burgess, who was absent from the town.

Chester Miller, chief of the fire brigade, was present. Councillor Watson, chairman of the fire committee, stated that it had been rumored that at least two of the fire brigade had resigned and he had asked the chief to come before council.

Chief Miller gave a list of the members. He said that he had not been notified of the resignation of any member of the brigade.

The chief was asked to make a further check-up on the members of the brigade, where they live and to see if they were all active.

Councillor Watson suggested that two members of the brigade be given quarters in the town hall, in order to be close to the fire equipment at night. No action was taken on the suggestion.

In answer to a question, the secretary informed council that he had received no notification as to whether or not the Curling Club had accepted the town's offer of $250 for the rent of the curling rink.

On motion of Councillor Porteous, a committee composed of the Mayor and Councillors Medlock and Watson was appointed to look after the matter.

Constable Harper submitted a report to council suggesting certain parking on the town's principal business street for consideration. The idea was accepted and on motion of Councillor Porteous the by-law will be passed, in order to regulate the registration and the necessary stop signs will be procured.

The Mayor took objection to a report of the special council meeting which appeared in the Grande Prairie Herald. He contended that the report created a wrong impression.

C. W. Frederick, Herald editor, replied that he had been unable to attend the meeting and on the following morning called at the town office for particulars and was informed that the secretary was too busy at the moment.

A number of a question put by His Worship, Mr. Frederick said that he was not in the town on Monday night. The following accounts were passed for payment: General, $111.87; individual in Shanties, $100.00; $34; unemployment relief, $308.79; labor, $113.20. Total, $599.86.

There are no other matters took up considerable time of the meeting. Before adjournment the Mayor suggested that the town fathers hold in the near future to celebrate the completion of the water and sewer system. This motion was turned over to The Mayor and Councillor Porteous, to consider and bring in a report.

BEAVER LODGE

Hockey Practice Begun By B.L. Blue Bombers

BEAVER LODGE, Nov. 21.—The Beaver Lodge Blue Bombers got away to their first hockey practice tonight. Coach Basil Hill figures on a good start, and from all indications the boys are figuring the same way. McDonald, Yeaman, and even Don McDunn have been acquired a pair of boxing gloves and nighty nighty in wind and limb, the hard way.

With the rink open things should start to hum.

Coach Ed. Johns has completed arrangements for new uniforms, and the boys are not going very far out on the limb in predicting that the Bombers are going to be a snappy outfit this winter.

Left Wing Lawrence Ouzut, who played in the last winter, will be back on the squad this winter.

HIGH PRAIRIE

Caravan Church Hall Opened Nov. 18th

HIGH PRAIRIE, Nov. 21.—The fine new Caravan Church Hall which has been built on the West Highway, was opened for a meeting on Friday, November 18, and Miss Eva Haell, O.R.E. member, was elected honorary president of the hall committee, and the name "Caravan Church Hall" was chosen for the new edifice.

A "building bee" of donated labor has kept the neighborhood busy for the past two weeks and the hall stands as a fine example of co-operative effort and Miss Haell's generosity.

The new Church Hall is complete with stove, furniture, lamps, and exquisite blue and gold hangings for the altar.

Miss Lois E. Coad, S.S. worker, of Worthing, England, arrived October 28 and has organized a Sunday school, girls' club, boys' club, Caravan Aid, and Young People's Club. A Christmas party is planned for Christmas week.

The new hall will care for the Caravan S. S. organized by Miss Haell in 1930 and held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Randall for many years.

An Anglican church to be erected opposite the hall school is expected to care for that part of the hall. It is brightly when the Caravan S. S., which will now form two church congregations.

Rev. S. W. St. Mark's, High Prairie, will hold the first service in the Church Hall on Sunday, November 27, at 3 p.m. An invitation is extended to all.

CAT RESCUED WHEN VESSEL FOUNDERS AFTER STORM
The story of a ship's cat saved by the captain, who popped it into a launch and saved it from a blazing schooner, was disclosed here today by a letter from the captain of the schooner, who was rescued after a hurricane, and finally landed in the harbor.

The Pioneer, Gloucester schooner owned by Captain Hans Milton, was wrecked on the coast of Nova Scotia, and finally landed in the harbor.

With the ship taking water, the crew soaked blankets in gasoline, ignited them and ran them up the mast. The schooner caught fire, and the crew fled to the lifeboats. The American Banker, who was on the ship, was rescued after a hurricane, and finally landed in the harbor.

The last man off was Captain Milton who dived with the cat and the ship's cat. The cat was an unnamed mascot who had been on the ship for many years.

Finds Vancouver's Development Is Marvellous

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 18, 1938. While waiting for the pathfinder to return, the Vancouver Herald has been making comparisons of Vancouver today and when it arrived 40 years ago, when the city was a village of 25,000 people.

Today I walked over the new Lions Gate bridge, which was opened for traffic Saturday. It is a magnificent structure, costing $8,000,000, and spans the First Narrows—entrance to Burrard Inlet Vancouver's beautiful harbor. The bridge has a single span of 1,500 feet over the water.

The view from the bridge is magnificent. To the south beautiful mountains rise to the top of the Lions, 7,500 feet high, flanked by other snow-capped peaks. To the east the city of Vancouver and the city of North Vancouver are visible.

McGregor River. A supply base had been established there; Ole Hanson also waited there with his boat. He took the car down the river—waited against time on the upper reaches of the McGregor River. The water was so low, the river might freeze, leaving him and his big boat in a bad predicament. No doubt he fretted impatiently, but he waited. Not idly, though, for he was busy with the other trappers the necessary connecting link—four miles of virgin bush.

"On the second day of the snowstorm three boys left our camp to go down the river. They took the car and pack in supplies of grub and gasoline. They took the trappers out and the car and pack in supplies of grub and gasoline. They took the trappers out and the car and pack in supplies of grub and gasoline.

"By noon next day we were short-handed. By noon next day we were short-handed. By noon next day we were short-handed. By noon next day we were short-handed. By noon next day we were short-handed.

"The McGregors were one of Murphy's pathfinder car crew. That night the car rolled into Camp 39 and two days later, amid wild cheers, rolled into the base camp on the McGregor.

"We had been told that the trappers would be badly opposed to the Monckman Pass Highway and that anyone promoting it would be unwelcome. The generosity with which they threw open the cabin doors to us and the vigor with which they assisted was no inconsiderable factor in putting the McGregors on the Monckman Pass. In the name of the people of the Peace River country I thank you, Mr. Hanson, for your Highway Association. I thank you, Ole Hanson, for your Highway Association. "I am glad to see you some idea of the difficulties met with and overcome by the crew in their journey. The McGregors were one of Murphy's pathfinder car crew. That night the car rolled into Camp 39 and two days later, amid wild cheers, rolled into the base camp on the McGregor.

"At length," says Mackenzie, "after all our toil and anxiety, we enjoyed the unexpected satisfaction of finding ourselves on the banks of a navigable river on the west side of the first great range of mountains."

"In 1806 Simon Fraser, following Mackenzie, reached the Peace River, reached this same point. He had the same disastrous experience with his horse and pack, and his boat was being smashed almost beyond repair by the time he reached the place where Mackenzie portaged over the neck of land.

"He was more fortunate in completing his journey to the river and at this point and elsewhere Fraser incurred a good deal of rather caustic criticism of Mackenzie.

"Before eight on the morning of June 18 Mackenzie embarked with his men, covering about 70 miles before nightfall.

"On the 19th of June they reached Fort George Canyon."

"On August 15 Mackenzie was back from having found his way to the coast, during which he had many trying experiences, and on that date he encountered the "Bad River."

"Two days later he had the water of the Peace River, and on the 19th reached the Peace. Five days in putting the McGregors on the Monckman Pass on the Peace at the junction of the Peace and the Mackenzie.

"The McGregors were one of Murphy's pathfinder car crew. That night the car rolled into Camp 39 and two days later, amid wild cheers, rolled into the base camp on the McGregor.
